The Senate Intelligence Committee today released its report on the September 11, 2012, attacks in Benghazi, Libya. The bi-partisan report is extremely critical of the Obama Administration, especially Hillary Clinton's State Department, for ignoring growing threats in Benghazi, as well as repeated requests for improved security. As a result, four Americans, including our ambassador, were killed by Islamic extremists.

Contrary to recent attempts by the New York Times and other Hillary apologists to downplay Al Qaeda's role, the Senate Intelligence Committee report states that "Individuals affiliated with terrorist groups, including [Al Qaeda in the Islamic Maghreb], Ansar al-Sharia, [Al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula], and the Mohammad Jamal Network, participated in the September 11, 2012, attacks."

Sen. Saxby Chambliss (R-GA), vice chairman of the Intelligence Committee, said, "In spite of the deteriorating security situation in Benghazi and ample strategic warnings, the [Obama Administration] simply did not do enough to prevent these attacks and ensure the safety of those serving in Benghazi."
